WHAT WE SUPPORT

The Aspirus Health Foundation aims to advance individual and community health in north and central Wisconsin and the Upper Peninsula of Michigan through our grant-making process. In 2016-2017, we will support efforts including scholarships for local institutions of higher learning for people pursuing a health related degree; agencies and organizations providing nutrition assistance to our most vulnerable community members; community-based health and wellness activities; community-based assessments that help our communities understand needs and priorities; and other projects that align with our mission.

Evaluation is critical to understanding where we are and where we might go with any project. Proposals are required to include clear goals and measures and can include process and/or outcome measures. Grants are awarded to organizations that can demonstrate capacity and commitment to achieving stated results. Evaluation is key to transparency and accountability. Special interest is given to grant projects that show long-term sustainability.

GOALS AND MEASURABLE RESULTS

When submitting a grant application, grantees should clearly indicate how their activities, if successful, will make a meaningful impact. We want to ensure that our grantees are making progress towards achieving our goals. The only way to know if this is happening is to develop metrics or tools that can gauge progress.

We commit to investing in organizations that outline clear methods for achieving their stated goals and should include clear and tangible strategies to impact one or more measurable results.

THE APPLICATION PROCESS

WHO CAN APPLY?

The Aspirus Health Foundation generally makes grants to the following types of organizations:

- Tax exempt organizations under section 501(c)(3)
- Public agencies, including state and local governments

New or emerging organizations without 501(c)(3) status may apply through a tax-exempt organization that acts as a fiscal sponsor. Please contact the Aspirus Health Foundation with any eligibility questions.

WHAT TYPES OF GRANTS DOES THE ASPIRUS HEALTH FOUNDATION MAKE?

Our goal is to fund projects that align with the Foundation's mission and that have the ability to produce one or more measurable results. Following are the types of grants we fund:

- Projects: Projects include a specific set of activities carried out over a defined time period to achieve one or more measurable result.
- Capacity-building: We support activities that strengthen an organization by enhancing financing, governance, planning, and other business capabilities. Capacity building activities should ultimately lead to one or more measurable results.
- Population Health: Projects that focus on a group of individuals to improve the health of an entire population and reduce population health inequities among group.
- Capital: While approval of capital requests is rare, we will consider funding requests to improve an organization's facilities or infrastructure when the capital project directly impacts the health of the population your organization serves. In order to be considered, capital efforts must have a demonstrable link to one or more measurable results.

WHAT DOESN'T THE ASPIRUS HEALTH FOUNDATION FUND?

We do not award grants to organizations that discriminate on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, national origin, citizenship status, age, disability, sexual orientation, or veteran status. Generally, the Foundation does not make grants to or for the following:

- Individuals
- Programs that require membership in a certain religion or advance a particular religious faith (faith-based organizations may be eligible for funding if they welcome all members of the community regardless of religious belief)
